Canyon Glows Tonight

"Thundering Sounds of the West" opens tonight, Thursday, at Pioneer Theatre in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

The spectacular sound and light show, featuring live action from local actors, begins nightly at 8:15 o'clock.

The theatre, which is located at the head of the 126-mile Palo Duro Canyon, lies at the base of a 600-foot bluff.

"The show will draw visitors to the magnificiently colored Canyon at the most spectacular time of day and will lead them through the experiences of residents and visitors to this same spot during the past 40,000,000 years," said Mrs. Ples Harper, president of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation.

Two members of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission will be honored guest at the opening tonight. Will Odom, chairman of the board, and James Dellinger will tour the amphitheatre and view plans of future development for the theatre during their three-day stay in the area.

The unique show will play nightly beginning tonight, June 17 through Sept. 6, except Tuesdays. Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Mrs. Harper explained that the strange effects made possible in the theatre is due to the location of the theatre stage.

"The bluff of the Canyon and the bowl of the theatre make an echo chamber, so that patrons seem to be inside of the sounds they hear. The acoustics are so perfect that a penny dropped anywhere on stage may be heard in any seat. A production in this place is a new kind of sound experience for listeners," she explained.

The show begins with the surf in the days when the vast Panhandle prairie was a sea, and continues through the ages of swamp, veldt and landslide to its present form.

The production then will recreate the drums, flutes, calls and arrows of the Indian occu-

Clubs List Miss Higdon Outstanding

Dorothy Ann Higdon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Higdon of Canyon, has been designated an "Outstanding Young Woman of America" by leaders of Women's Clubs in Montgomery, Alabama.

Miss Higdon, who is a 1965 graduate of West Texas State University with a degree in Music Education, was chosen for the signal honor on the basis of her contributions to the community, personality, character, and excellence in one or more fields of endeavor.

Miss Higdon was nominated by Canyon Chapter of American Association of University Women from a group of 10 persons in Canyon.

Women chosen for the honor must be between the ages of 21 and 35, and be outstanding in their community. Only 10,000 young women in the United States are named each year.

Names of those chosen are

Miss Clark Ski Winner

Charolotte Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clark of Canyon, took two first place honors at the recent Lubbock Open Ribbon Tournament.

Miss Clark is a member of the Panhandle Boat and Ski Club. She placed first in jumps and tricks in the girls division.

Old Settlers Reunion Scheduled In August

Canyon will stage its annual rodeo and old settlers roundup again this year.

Decision to hold the annual affair was reached Wednesday night of last week at a meeting of civic and community leaders.

Plans call for the celebration to be held Aug. 5, 6 and 7.

A junior rodeo will be held at the Randall County Sheriff's Posse arena each evening of the fiesta. The Junior Chamber of Commerce will be in charge of the annual barbecue and beard contest.

Canyon Chamber of Commerce board of directors at a regular meeting Monday night voted to assist in putting on the celebration. The Randall County Sheriff's Posse will be in charge of the rodeo.

There will be a parade down Fourth Avenue one afternoon of the celebration. Several area riding clubs will participate.

The Chamber board Monday night also voted to assist in sponsoring a Grady Hazlewood Appreciation banquet some time in September. Guest of honor will be State Senator Grady Hazlewood of Canyon, dean of the state Senate.

State and national dignitaries will be on hand for the occasion.

Already mentioned to be included on the guest list are Governor John Connally, Lt. Governor Preston Smith, Speaker of the House Ben Barnes and Attorney General Waggoner Carr.

Senator Hazlewood is a graduate of Canyon High School and West Texas State. He is an attorney and operates a dairy about 4 miles north of Canyon.

Tonsils Out For Family

Tonsillectomies...cheaper by the half dozen?

Six children of the Harvey Artho family at Umbarger had tonsillectomy operations last Tuesday and Wednesday at Neblett Hospital and Clinic in Canyon.

Tuesday's operations were held for Dale, 13, Ned, 11, and Lorrie, 10.

Tonsillectomies done Wednesday were for Jerry Don, 8, Marla, 6, and Timmy, 4.

Crops Look Good After Heavy Rains

Tuesday morning's rain put Randall County back in its unusual refreshing condition: wet and dripping.

Monday afternoon the cutting blades of the wheat combines were redrawn on the ripe crop only to back off and wait for another day, according to Randall County agent John Brazzil.

Five to six inches of rain has fallen within the past week. A few areas report larger totals. Hail damage has been small as a per cent of the total crop but damaging in isolated areas.

Seldom has a June rain of this magnitude been received by Randall County farmers and ranchers with so much pleasure. The rainfall pattern was near perfect. Runoff occurred but the fields and pastures were first saturated.

Ranges and pastures will quickly respond. Summer grow-

Moisture Brings Smiles

Farmers are happy, fishermen are happy, and barefooted youngsters are happy after a five-inch rain drenched Canyon last week.

According to Dr. M.B. Measamer, professor of geography at West Texas State University, Canyon has received 5.86 inches of rain since the first of June.

Some .92 inches of rain fell early Tuesday morning in town, with up to an inch recorded in parts of the county.

Nearly four inches of rain fell during a three-day period last week, as streets in Canyon flowed with water.

The drenching brought the year's total to 10.98 inches. Measamer pointed out that a year ago Canyon had recorded

WTSU Would Play Key Project Role

West Texas State University is expected to have a key role in atomic research if the world's largest atom smasher is located in this area.

Dr. Alfred Kraus, Jr., director of Killgore Research Center, has done most of the work on this area's proposal that the $280 million national accelerator laboratory be located at Amarillo Air Force Base.

In his proposal, submitted to Atomic Energy Commission director of research, Kraus pointed out that the staff of Killgore research branch of WT will be engaged in research in the areas of biology-chemistry, low temperature physics and some applied mathematics.

"Available in mathematics and the sciences are about 20 men with Ph.D's," he said. "This group will be very willing to aid your project if they can be of help."

He noted that IBM computers also will be available.

He also said that at West Texas State there is an industrial arts department which will soon be training metal workers, electronics technicians and is now supplying draftsmen.

Dr. Kraus pointed out the advantages of placing the big atom smasher at Amarillo Air

Carnival Begins Monday

Canyon Lions Club carnival will open with a bang next Monday evening, June 21, on the parking area east of Rex Reeves Elementary School.

The carnival will run through the following Saturday, June 26. Rides and concessions will both open at 6 p.m. each evening and close at 10 p.m.

According to Art Roberts, chairman of the carnival plans, rides will be much the same as last year, with kiddie rides also scheduled.

Included in rides last year were ferris wheel, merry-go-round, tilt-a-whirl, a scrambler and a caterpillar.

Booths will feature a dunking board, keg pitch, bear pitch, baseball cats and a fish pond for children, Roberts said.

In addition, Randall County's 11 home demonstration clubs will sponsor a concession stand with different cakes and pies, along with other goodies to eat.

Canyon Boy Scouts will operate a cotton candy booth, and Girl Scouts will sell sno-cones.

Folks are urged to come on out next week and have a good

Miss Platt Wins $100

Shirley Platt, 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Platt, won the $100 given away by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce as part of the Moonlight Madness promotion last week.

Miss Platt, a beautician in Canyon, received the check Monday morning following a drawing in the chamber office.

The money was given to the winner of the Man in the Moon contest, held Thursday night as part of the city-wide sale.

Levi Cole was the man in the moon, and clues were posted in each participating store during the two-hour promotion Thursday night.

Miss Platt's name was drawn from some 250 names that had correctly chosen Cole.

Local stores remaining open for the promotion were packed during the evening Thursday.

Parking places around the square were at a premium, even though torrential rains

Work Begins On City Hall

City business will be directed from the old Stevenson Pontiac building for the next 45 days, according to Dewey Bryant, city manager.

The City Hall is being renovated, and city offices have been transferred down the street to 1618 Fourth Avenue.

At a called meeting of the city commissioners last week, a low bid of $6,799 was awarded to Jack and Scott Downing for remodeling of the city hall.

The renovation of the offices includes electricity, plumbing, air conditioning and heating in addition to the remodeling.

Bryant said the work should be completed within 45 days.

Monsoon Madness

Julie McGlasson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene McGlasson, brought along an umbrella Thursday night of last week as she made the rounds during the Moonlight Madness promotion. Her mother aptly changed the name to Monsoon Madness.

Trustees Vote More Teachers

Canyon Public Schools may have some 122 teachers next fall.

Superintendent Huelyn Laycock told board members Tuesday night that due to an enrollment rise 17 new teachers may be needed.

Some 106 teachers were being used at the end of school in May, according to the superintendent.

Earlier this year, school board members voted to raise the number of teachers for next year to 110. But Tuesday night they voted to raise the number to 122 if necessary.

"We won't hire teachers until we see for sure that they are needed," Laycock said.

The major concern is at the new Gene Howe Elementary School in South Amarillo. At the present time census roles show that 219 elementary students will be enrolled in the new building.

"But with the growth of that area, this number will undoubtedly increase by the time school opens in the fall," Laycock told the board.

He also pointed out that now some 34 students are signed for the first grade in the new school, and 34 for the second grade. Third grade students number 42, and fourth graders number 41. The fifth grade will carry some 29 students, and the sixth grade will have 39 students, according to figures at this time.

"That is too many students in one class for those grades," said trustee Newton Crain.

"I think we should give Mr. Laycock the authority to hire up to nine more teachers if enrollment increases in that area," said board member Jerry LaGrone.

Laycock also explained that the junior high school will need one more teacher and the high school two more teachers for the fall.

Gene Howe School may need up to nine more teachers.

A door-to-door survey will be conducted sometime in July in the northern part of the school

Our dad is the best anywhere, say Leah Catherine, 5, and Kelly Scott, 8, children of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hooper, as Father's Day draws near. The two youngsters practice up on putting an extra amount of love into helping dad with his slippers, and making him comfortable before the big day gets here. It's a pretty sure bet, too, that sons and daughters throughout Canyon, and the U.S. will be doing much the same for Sunday's celebration.

Group Plan Question Pending

Randall County commissioners next Monday will make a decision on whether to offer group hospitalization to county employees.

The program, if adopted, will cost the county an estimated $400 a month. It could call for amending the budget.

John Halley, Amarillo insuranceman, has asked to be made agent of record. If such a program is begun, bids probably will be taken.

J. Lee Milligan, Amarillo contractor, was low bidder on 1.2 miles of road repair in precinct 1. Milligan's bid on the project was $2,428.80, more than $1,000 less than any of the other three bidders.

Judge Lloyd King told the court that Lem Pounds, Potter County deputy sheriff, has been acting as juvenile probation officer in Amarillo and Canyon Police Chief L. D. Caldwell has been acting in the same capacity here in Canyon. He suggested some token payment to the men for their services.

No action was taken on the suggestion.

by Troy Martin FROM THE CANYON RIM

Organization is taking its toll on man and his institutions.

Man is a herd creature. The bigger the herd to which he belongs the more he seems to organize. The more he organizes the less the individual is allowed to think for himself.

Rapid communication, especially visual media, has homogenized the thought trends of the nation and now promises to do the same to the world.

In the not too distant future, major telecasting networks will toss aloft their own satellites. Your television set will have 50 or more channels and you will tune in New York, London, Paris, Berlin and Moscow, live and direct. Local television stations, thus bypassed, will find their national advertising dried up and will struggle for existence.

This inroad on local TV and emphasis on national and international visual media, may well further the cause of homogenization.

Mores of society in this country are changing but pressure toward conformity is greater than ever before. Turbulence over civil rights, poverty and privileges for the masses does not hide the fact that the individual is being submerged.

Even great inventions and technological advancements are being accomplished through teamwork rather than by individuals. Men who think as individuals already pay a terrible price for that luxury.

Man, surrounded by his gadgets, appears to have no better (if as good) understanding of his deepest needs or his place in the universe than did patient Job who sat stricken before his tent in sack cloth and ashes.

I saw a second grade picture of Sheriff L.S. "Slim" Johnston this week. Slim was barefoot, as were all the kids.

One teacher taught all grades. She boarded with the Johnstons.

Name of the school was Bug Scuffle.

Crosby Hammons, dispatcher at the Randall County Sheriff's Office, once helped capture a robber at Endee, N.M. The crook was trying to rob a store where Crosby was employed by his father-in-law, Wellington Johnson.

The robber held a gun on Hammons and told him to open the cash register. Hammons grabbed the man instead.

Johnson took a hand in the fight and kicked the thug until he fell. He turned to see if Crosby was all right and the robber fled. Johnson fired at him in the dark and hit the man.

An hour later Crosby discovered that he himself had been shot in the leg.

Palo Duro Canyon is beautiful after the rains. Grass and shrubbery are green and camping business is picking up.

E.J. Boehm, Palo Duro State Park manager, said there was a big influx of campers about the first of the month. He expects a record year.

Boehm has supervised cleaning up of Water Crossing No. 1 and preparation of additional camping sites. He is proud that this was done without the expenditure of appropriated money.

"We did it in spare time," he said.

Camping areas in the canyon appear to be in the best shape ever. Boehm said he is expecting a record number of visitors this year.

There seems to be a greater awareness of Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum among visitors than ever before. I spent some time in the canyon Tuesday and several campers knew about the museum and said they planned to visit it during their stay here.

I heard some numbers from the musical being presented at Pioneer Theater in Palo Duro Canyon Tuesday night. Great!

The theater will bring a lot more people to Canyon in future years. I hope the theater will be filled at every performance of "Thundering Sounds of the West" which opens tonight and runs through Sept. 7.

Saw a dibble of the show planned for Pioneer Theatre in Palo Duro Canyon this summer--and it is going to be great!

Recommend that everyone see it at least once with their family, then take some friends for a second evening of entertainment.

The lighting and sounds will be beautiful, and as usual the William Moores have done an outstanding job of directing the actors through the live portions.

I had heard everyone rave about the effects the light and sound have on the audience, but didn't quite believe it all until I sat in the midst of the beauty.

The show begins each night at 8:15 p.m., which is the most beautiful time of the day for the canyon.

And as the night slowly darkens, the lights pick up the shadows, and the outline of the huge bluff above--well, I was almost speechless (which is rare for me).

I urge each of you to go out at least once and see the show. If the one show doesn't convince you that you should return for more of the same, nothing will.

Think Joe Batson of Amarillo has done a tremendous job of taping the show. I recognized portions of one song, "How the West was Won," and if you don't think that isn't stirring in the amphitheatre.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children, and there is no charge to enter the park.

Any night except Tuesdays--go see it.

The folks at the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation have done folks of the Panhandle a big favor. In fact they have done visitors to Texas, the South Plains, Canyon and Amarillo an even bigger favor.

They are allowing folks from all the world to see why the Golden Spread is as great as natives say. And they even prove that it deserves the praise.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell L. Roy and son were at Red River, New Mexico recently on a vacation trip. They also went sightseeing in Santa Fe before returning to Canyon.

Local Unit Helps In Hereford

Canyon emergency unit was called to Hereford Monday evening to help search for the bodies of two young men believed drown.

Local unit recovered the body of one of the men at 7:05 p.m.

The second body was recovered at 7:15 p.m., according to fire captain Joe Rice of Canyon.

Rice said the two apparently drowned when a raft on which they were riding overturned in a dryland lake 22 miles northwest of Hereford.

The lake was about eight feet deep from recent rains in the area.

Emergency unit, consisting of 10 men, was called at 4:55 p.m. Monday by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office. They returned to Canyon around 9 p.m.

In the first group will be five junior high girls, who will attend Chi-Rho camp, June 20-26. They include Darene Gatten, Jan Patton, Marsha Tidwell, Robbie Weldert, Vanita Weldert and Carolyn Lyng.

Some five fifth and sixth grade boys will attend camp the following week for junior campers. The boys include Randy Costley, John Eudy, Davin Gatten, Tom Johnson, and Mike Reynolds.

Two boys also attended the senior camp session, held at the end of May, according to Rev. Charles Meredith, pastor of the church. They were Gary Cook and Galen Gatten.

Accompanied by Bill Downing, advisor, post members, including Steven Downing, Joe Johnson, Gary Mulkey, Ricky Widick, and Bill Widick, journeyed to Flin Flon, Manitoba, Canada.

The group fished for about 10 days at Lake Athapapuskow, according to Downing, and caught some 100 fish. Between 20 and 40 measuring two inches in length were also landed by the explorers.

One of the group also nearly caught a 120 pound squaw, Downing related, "but we didn't bring her back with us."

The trip is an annual affair of the Explorer Post, which raises its own funds for the tour.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Jack McManigal during the week end was their son's family Mr. and Mrs. Mike McManigal and son, Kent, of Farwell. Also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Magness of Farwell.

Law School Honors High Court Judge

Judge Meade F. Griffin, father of Mrs. Gary Garner of Canyon, recently was presented a rosewood gavel by St. Mary's Law School in San Antonio.

The gavel was presented as "a mark of appreciation for distinguished judicial service. Presentation was made by Justice James R. Norvell of the Texas Supreme Court.

Judge Griffin is the senior member of the Texas Supreme Court. He was appointed to the high court in April of 1949 by Governor Buford Jester.

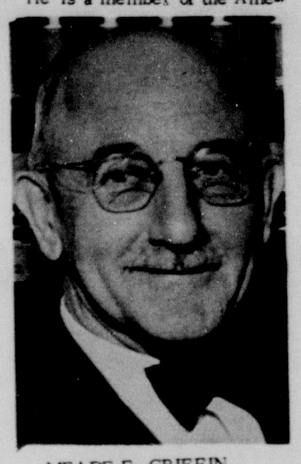

Judge Griffin is a 1915 graduate of the University of Texas Law School.

He served in World War I and was discharged with the rank of major. He served as a colonel in World War II and was a prosecutor of Nazi war criminals at Wiesbaden, Germany following the war.

In civilian life, Judge Griffin has served as mayor of Tulia, Swisher county attorney, Hale county judge and was district attorney for the 64th Judicial District from 1927 through 1934. His record reflects that he was one of the great prosecutors during the turbulent time he held that office.

"I had more customers during the two hours Thursday night than I did all day Thursday," one local businessman said.

Local residents, who seemed cheered by the five inch rain that fell last week, flocked into stores and left with their arms full of special buys.

Merchants agreed that the sale was a success, and plans are being discussed for another promotion in several months.

He said jet transportation service, adequate housing, office buildings and many other facilities currently being used by the military could be put to use by the AEC. He pointed to the proximity of the Pantex AEC plant and noted the availibility of liquid helium.

In all, Dr. Kraus prepared a 24-page proposal listing advantages of this area including cultural and recreational opportunities afforded the staff of the new AEC plant should it be located here.

The proposed high energy physics research plant is a project being sought by many cities over the country.

Houston, San Antonio and Fort Worth-Dallas are Texas areas, other than Canyon-Amarillo, seeking the facility.

Other cities said to be bidding for the plant are Los Angeles, San Francisco, Denver, Chicago, Indianapolis, Atlanta, Kansas City, St. Louis and Ravona, Ohio.

The plant eventually will have a total permanent staff of some 2,000 scientists, engineers and technicians affiliated with a visiting staff of about 1,000 research scientists, graduate students and support personnel.

The initial investment of $280 million would top that of the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston.

ing native grasses will become abundant for summer use and maybe produce enough for dry forage next winter.

The irrigation wells are idle for the first time in many months. Much planting of grain sorghum and forage sorghum remains to be done. The excellent soil moisture condition will sustain summer crops for a long time.

A busy schedule shapes up for area farmers when the fields dry. Many crops are weedy and must be quickly cultivated. Planting will resume. But the big job is to save the excellent irrigated wheat crop and the surprising dry land wheat crop before additional weather damage occurs.

"We will just have to go from house-to-house to determine just how many more students we will have in the new building," he said.

"That new school has certainly boosted development in the area," Crain said.

Teachers salary schedule was also approved by the board. Laycock said that due to the change in the state schedule, Canyon's schedule was also altered.

The change involved schedules of teachers holding both bachelor and master degrees.

A salary schedule change for administrative personnel was also approved by the board.

The change calls for the high school principal to make $9,850 next year. Principal of the Canyon Junior High School will earn $9,350, and Rex Reeves Elementary principal will make $9,350.

Gene Howe Elementary principal will earn $8,950, and the assistant principal for the high school will earn $7,600. Assistant principal at the junior high school will earn $8,000.

Raise in salary was given to Mrs. Ocoee Holt to $8,022. J.E. Miller, curriculum director, will earn $9,240 next year for 11 months of work, and business manager Jimmy Plain will make $8,000.

Tax assessor-collector Lee Foster earned a $400 raise to $8,500.

"The salary schedule is set up to meet the minimum state schedule in some of the positions, and the other positions are adjusted to give credit to the position in comparison to the other positions that were adjusted to meet the minimum state schedule," Laycock explained.

James N. Perkins was elected by the board as assistant high school principal.

Perkins is a graduate of West Texas State University and has a M.Ed. degree from WT. He taught in Kress for two years, and has been in Midland as counselor for the past six years.

B.B. Kendrick was hired as social studies and coach in the junior high school. Kendrick is a graduate of Wayland College in Plainview.

pation. Chants and horses neighing, guitars and guns of the Spanish exploration, and the songs and homely sounds of the cattle drivers will be followed by the sounds and lights of the ranchers and the settlers who finally found a way to settle in this land through storm and sunshine.

The show ends with a blaze of light, sound, horses and men in a great finale.

The effects with light and sound are adapted from the French "Son Et Lumiere" techniques, which were developed in the Cheateaux of the Loire Valley to bring historical sites to life.

They create high drama with synchronized audio-visual systems of sound effects, lighting, music, dialogue and narration.

The first use of the technique in the United States was in Independence Hall in Philadelphia. This show opened on July 4, 1962.

In planning the theatre, the board of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation was advised by playwright Paul Green.

Green has written several documentaries of American life for outdoor theatres.

He is preparing a script for the amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon. The final draft will be presented when accommodations in the theatre for a large cast have been finished.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Currie entertained Mrs. Gwendolyn Berngen of Chillicothe last week end. Sunday they travelled to Canadian to visit their son, Dwayne Currie, and tour the Lake Meredith area and the Canadian River Dam.

Minister To Speak At Church

Rev. A. C. Bates of Waxahachie will be guest speaker for the 10 a.m. services of Assembly of God Church in Canyon Sunday.

Buffalo Lake has risen some five feet the past week due to the heavy rains. Bob Brown, manager of the Wildlife Refuge, said the creek had dropped to normal flow by mid-day Tuesday following a half-inch rain.

"The fishing seems to be trying to improve," Brown said.

He noted that the crappie and channel cat are biting, and he expects the sand bass and crappie to begin spawning soon.

Palo Duro Canyon State Park was closed portions of one day last week due to the rise in the creek crossings.

The park received some 3 1/2 inches of rain during Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and another .55 inches Monday.

Mrs. Eddie J. Riley and children, Vance and Dana, of Houston will visit her in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Rip Riley next week.

Also due home in early July is the Riley's son, Vonnell, who is completing his army career at Fort Hood. A graduate of West Texas State University, Vonnell received a commission as first lieutenant.

JO HUBBARD

Jo Hubbard Crowned Miss South Plains

Jo Hubbard, a graduate of Canyon High School and West Texas State University, was crowned Miss South Plains last Saturday in Brownfield.

Miss Hubbard is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V.B. Hubbard of Canyon, and is spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. Bill McDonald of Brownfield.

The fourth annual pageant was sponsored by Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Hubbard presented two vocal selections for her talent, "Smile" and "When You're Smiling" as she sang her way to representing three counties. She will represent Terry, Gaines and Yoakum Counties in the upcoming Miss Texas Pageant in Fort Worth, July 27-31.

Miss Hubbard wore a pink bathing suit designed with side draping for swim suit competition, and chose a gown of green satin enhanced with rhinestone floral motifs and deep pleats in the back for evening gown competition.

She was presented with a bouquet of red roses, a $225 wardrobe, photographs by Frogge Studios in Brownfield, and her trip to the Miss Texas pageant. Miss Jane Weiss, Miss South Plains of 1964, placed the crown upon her head.

Jo has had special training in voice and will attend the University of Texas to further her education. While at Canyon High School, she was a high school twirler, voted "most witty" and a member of Thespians. She is a May graduate of WTSU.

In March, she was named 1965 Panhandle Boat and Ski Show Queen, and was a contender in the Miss Amarillo pageant, held earlier this year.

Two Indicted, One Sentenced

Two men were indicted last week by a Randall County grand jury.

Roberto Aguilar, 24 years old, Amarillo, was indicted on a charge of assault with intent to murder. Charles Podzemny, 31, Amarillo was indicted on a charge of theft by bailee.

Aguilar subsequently entered a plea of guilty before Judge Gene Jordan and was sentenced to from two to five years in state prison.

The charge against Aguilar alleged an assault on Elina Frausto May 2 of this year.

Tulia Man Fined $100

A Tulia man was fined in county court here during the past week.

Benny Allen Bethel, 20 years old, was fined $100 after he entered a plea of guilty to charges of "carrying on and about his person a pistol."

District Attorney George Dowlen said Bethel was alleged to have carried a pistol in the glove compartment of an automobile.

A 16-year-old Canyon girl was committed to the state school for girls Wednesday after Judge Lloyd King had ruled her a delinquent.

The girl testified that she had been in jail nine times. Action in the case heard this week was brought by the girl's mother.

In other business, the court handled three cases involving illegal fishing.

Group Slates Canadian Trip

Six Canyon men will leave Saturday morning for a two-week camping trip to Flin Flon, Manitoba, Canada.

Making the trip will be Aubrey Crossland, and sons Kenny and Billy Dan, Dr. W.J. Wooten, and Ronnie, and Oscar Hinger.

The group will leave at approximately 4:30 a.m., according to Wooten, and should return around July 4. They plan to do mostly fishing during the wilderness trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Raymond were in Sunray over the week end to visit with Mr. and Mrs. T.S. Dooley and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Raymond and children.

BETTER COOLING-MORE COMFORT

exclusive with WRIGHT AIR COOLERS

Evaporation of water, coupled with moving air, causes a cooling effect we can feel. For maximum cooling efficiency, an evaporative air cooler must have all cooling pads equally saturated. Uneven water distribution, dry pads, or dry areas on pads will greatly reduce cooling efficiency and comfort. That's why these features of Wright's exclusive Equi-Flow Water System are so important, and why a Wright air cooler gives you better cooling and more comfort.

Dual dispersing nozzles meter out correct amount of aerated water ... divided, adjustable troughs distribute it evenly across the entire cooling filter even if cooler is not level.

Swirl action meter distributes to all dispersing nozzles an equal amount of water.

High capacity recirculating pump assures sufficient water for complete saturation of cooling pads.

Sound, Light Building Center Of Production

"Curtain time." "Curtain time."

The familiar cry of stage productions won't be appropriate this week when lights go on and taped sound effects are begun in the first show of "Thundering Sounds of the West."

The show will feature live action along with special sound and light effects to emphasize beautiful Palo Duro Canyon State Park where the new Pioneer Theatre is nestled below a sheer cliff.

Some 25 actors will depict the history of the Panhandle as sound dramatizes the growth of the Golden Spread.

Performances of the special summer-long show will begin each night at 8:15 o'clock. The show will run from June 17 through Sept. 6, except on Tuesday nights.

But the heart of the show will be carried on behind the scenes in the new sound and light control building, which was dedicated earlier this year.

Built on top of the long wall at the entrance to the theatre, this structure houses all the light and sound equipment necessary for full-scale productions.

The building is carpeted and dust proof. The two storage rooms, a large central control room and a sound-proof narrator's room in the building are supported by concrete pillars which form a portal at the rear of the amphitheatre. A small, circular staircase leads to the control building.

The key to the installation is the control board. Mounted in a large, movable desk unit beside sliding glass panels, it is constructed on tracks which will allow the whole unit to slide outsoors. This enables the operator to hear the sound effects as they occur and to control them with precision.

It is also possible to control the show with the glass panels closed, permitting the equipment to be used and protected at the same time in inclement weather.

Electrical wiring has been designed to carry any load which the theatre ever could need. Six tubes twice the diameter of a man's wrist carry the cables and the current underground to the control room.

Plans for the installation were made by Joe Batson and Bill Rhew of Amarillo with consultants Laurence Durbin of the West Texas Electronics Co. of Amarillo and Gene Diskey of the Little Stage Lighting Col. of Dallas.

Theatre architects Bob Hucker and Earl Parge of Amarillo worked closely with the light and sound people.

The lighting is designed around the use of the new stage-lighting lamps which were made especially for spectaculars and long-distance use.

These lights make possible certain lighting effects which can not be made with other lights.

Minimum maintenance is required on the lights. They are connected to a pre-set system which can run automatically if desired.

The Ampex sound equipment has enough controls to handle four channels. It was custom-made to take advantage of the unique acoustical properties formed by the bowl of the amphitheatre and the canyon wall.

Five large speakers have been placed at strategic intervals so that sound will sweep around the theatre, creating the effect of thunderstorms, antiphonal music, and also utilize the echoes as they occur.

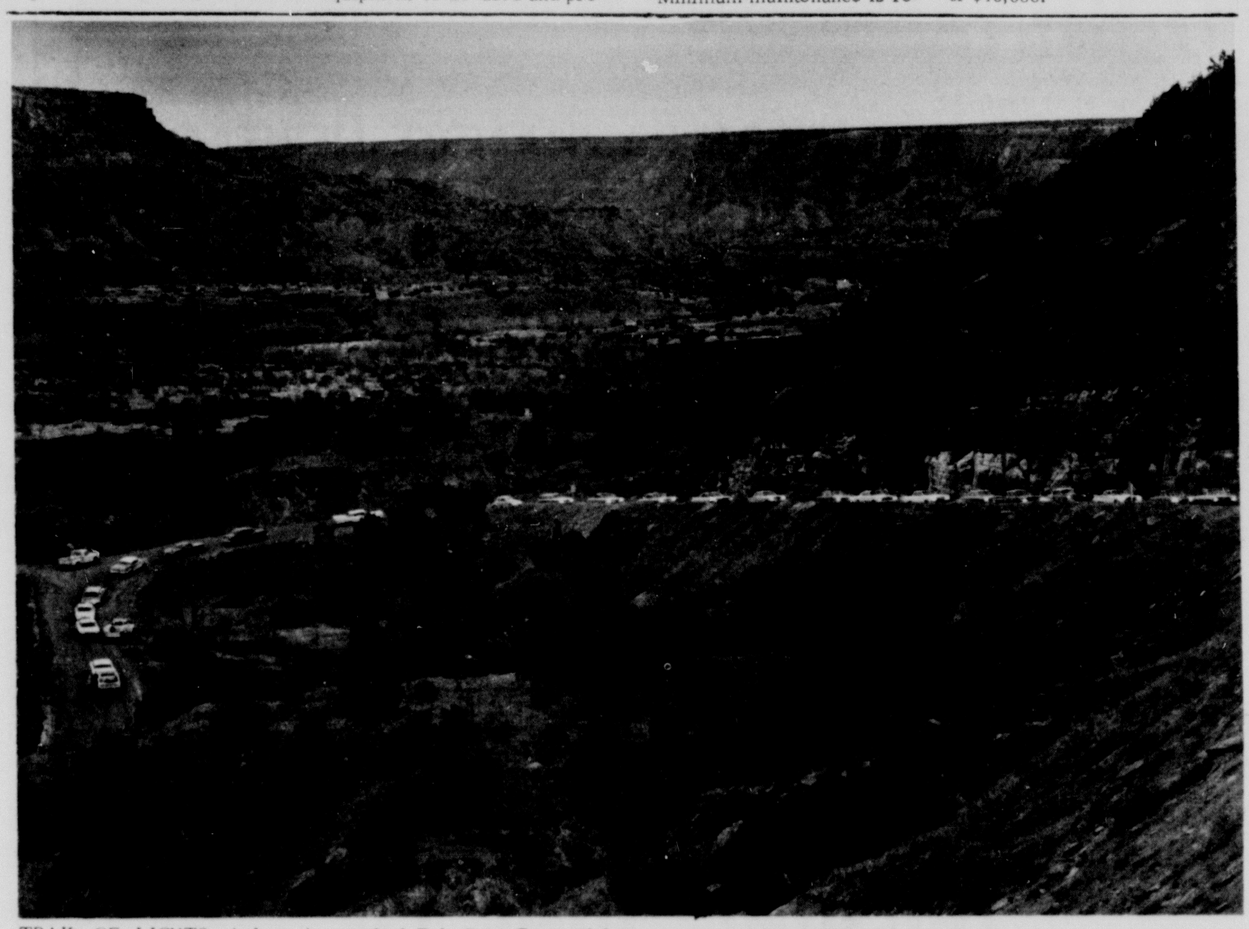

The sound and light building was given and constructed by Gilvin-Terrell, Crain Electric, Crowe-Gulde, Pete White Roofing Co., and Rudy Bauman Lumber Co., all of Amarillo.

The equipment was purchased with funds designated for that purpose and given to the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation by the combined Bivins families. The building and equipment is valued in excess of $40,000.

Outdoor Drama

Spectacular sound and lighting effects will highlight a special summer-long production in Pioneer Theatre in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. The show begins tonight at 8:15 o'clock and runs through Sept. 6. The show will run nightly except Tuesdays, and admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

TRAIL OF LIGHTS wind up the road of Palo Duro Canyon following a production in Pioneer Theatre in the base of the state park. The picture shows the beauty of the canyon at dusk, exactly when the show begins in the theatre this summer. "Thundering Sounds of the West," a sound and light show, begins at 8:15 p.m. beginning tonight and runs nightly through Sept. 6, except Tuesdays.

Growth Expected

Future Plans For Amphitheatre

Mrs. Ples Harper, president of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, gave The Canyon News an outline of future plans for the amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

"The audience portion of the Pioneer amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon State Park is about complete, and it is now possible to present attractions which do not require much dressing room space.

"The use of the theatre, however, will always be limited until the dressing rooms are completed and the light towers built.

"The members of the Parks and Wildlife Commission of the state of Texas appointed in the last two years, have become very interested in the completion of this building, and at their request the officers of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation prepared an analysis of the physical needs of the plant and sent it to them. This estimate was submitted as part of the total Parks and Wildlife budget and has passed both houses in Austin. It is in the general appropriation bill which is now on the Governor's desk for signature.

"If and when the Governor approves this expenditure, the Board of the Heritage Foundation has voted to continue to seek under-writing for the production of the Paul Green spectacular historical drama which has been conceived for this theatre. About half of the necessary amount has been raised.

"With the underwriting, and the building, and the experience gained fromm "thundering Sounds of the West" this summer, it will be possible to proceed with the full development of the theatre in the Palo Duro Canyon."

Theatre Dedicated In 1963

On April 21, 1963 ceremonies dedicating the Texas Panhandle Heritage Amphitheatre in Palo Duro State Park were held against the majestic backdrop of Palo Duro Canyon.

The Heritage Foundation, established as an area project to preserve history and tradition in a music drama that would be a permanent attraction at the state park, is headed by Mrs. Ples Harper of Canyon, president.

Funds for the outdoor theatre at the foot of a sheer cliff were raised by popular subscription and playwright Paul Green of Chapel Hill, South Carolina, was commissioned to write the music drama.

R.B. Johnston, Amarillo educator and Panhandle historian, was main speaker for the dedication.

Other speakers for the occasion will be Maurice Turner of Huntsville, and Bill Collins of Austin.

Amarillo Air Force Base band entertained the visitors. The West Texas State University Choir performed with three selections at the close of the dedication for the entertainment of the group.

Cawthon Sketch Selected

A sketch drawn by Billy Cawthon of Canyon was selected as the best drawing for Randall County in the 1963 Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation contest, which ended in April, 1963, was held to select a sketch to be reproduced in stone and placed at the entrance of the Palo Duro Canyon Amphitheatre.

Subject of the sketch was to have centered around West Texas State University, chosen by the Heritage committee because they felt the college has had the greatest significance in the economic, cultural and overall development of Randall County.

The Cawthon sketch was accepted as first because of its adaptability to reproduction in relief on stone, neatness of presentation and artistic value.

Foundation Began Operation In 1961

Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation was formed in the summer of 1961 by representatives from 12 Panhandle communities.

The board of 80 people is divided into representatives from Canyon, Amarillo and the rest of the Panhandle area.

The administrative body is an executive committee of nine, consisting of the president, three vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer and three directors. This body maintains an office at 415 16th Street in Canyon, and employs an office manager, Mrs. Bonnie Whittington, a public relations officer, Mrs. Edith Eckhardt and seasonal help as needed.

Miss Sue Addington is now covering the late afternoon shift in the office, and will keep it open until 8 p.m. during the season.

Elections are held at an annual meeting in January to choose new members for the large Board of Directors. Once elected, the large board chooses its own officers.

Each term is two years, and board members and officers are staggered so that one half of the number is elected each year.

The organization was formed to preserve, record and re-create the story of the history of the pioneers in a permanent outdoor theatre in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Amphitheatre Groundbreaking October 1962

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the Pioneer Theatre in Palo Duro Canyon State Park were conducted in October of 1962.

Mrs. Ples Harper, president of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, lifted the first spade full of dirt for the stage and theatre.

Some 41 cities from the Golden Spread were represented during the afternoon ceremonies.

Eddie Melin of Amarillo acted as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. Harper Explains Theatre's Importance

(EDITOR'S NOTE--Mrs. Ples Harper, president of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation, explains to The Canyon News readers the importance of the amphitheatre to the Panhandle area.)

With the opening of the Pioneer Amphitheatre in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park, the Panhandle of Texas joins the distinguished list of areas choosing theatrical productions to describe their history and to entertain families and visitors.

The joys and importance of this kind of effort have been known in other parts of the country for a long time. The straw hat theatre circuit in the barns of New England has tried new plays and cherished old ones for many years.

The tremendous historical spectacles called aymphonic dramas, largely written by Paul Green and his pupil Kermit Hunter, have been the principal base for the tourist advertising in North Carolina for two decades.

Every revived mining camp in Colorado has its theatre for variety acts or melodrama or serious shows and the theatres in Denver during the summer, and Red Rocks and Central City form the principal targets for summer Denver visitors.

Texas has offered less of this kind of entertainment. There have been many special days, many short productions, but few communities have planned something which is equipped for production throughout the summer, so that tourists could plan their trips to include it. The San Jose Mission theatre in San Antonio, has such a program, The Casa Manana in Fort Worth and the Musical Hall at the Dallas Fair offer a wide variety of summer entertainment. Aside from these, visitors have no opportunity to guage the talents and skills of Texas in theatrical affairs which are open all summer. For productions which show glimpses of the life and spirit of the west, they had to go on to New Mexico or Colorado until this summer.

This is now changed. Staying overnight in the Panhandle on the long drive from Central Texas to the West, travelers now have a vivid way to see a slice of the West. If they turn from the highways a few miles, they will have a set of tremendous new experiences; a view of the plains at sunset and twilight, the times when the skies are most beautiful; the experience of coming to the edge of a great abyss and having it open up suddenly beneath them; the magnificent color of the Palo Duro Canyon after six o'clock which cannot even be imagined during the heat of the day. And finally the story of the place told with a talented, gay and polished cast, and the power of compelling light and sound against the baffle of the 600 foot high bluff which faces the stage. Starting when the plains were an inland sea with surf and surge, ending with the time when ranchers and the settlers came, "Thundering Sounds of the West" is a wonderful opportunity for visitors and even residents to "meet the Panhandle."

Rx WHAT IS A GENERIC NAME?

A generic name is the basic name for a group of similar drugs. But, it does not mean that all of these products are the same in quality. This fact may not be important for some types of products but it certainly is when it comes to medicines. This is why your physician specifies a brand name in which he has faith when he writes you a prescription.

Brand names may sometimes cost a little more but the assurance of quality and effectiveness more than makes up for this. When it comes to health no one wants to rely on off-brands. We prefer only those drugs made by the reputable pharmaceutical firms.

Fandangle Opening In Albany

The delightful show Fandangle is opening in Albany, Texas Friday June 18th.

It will show five nights: the 18-19, the 24-25-and 26th. The production celebrates the exciting days when the land was a western frontier and is a delightful satire on those attitudes and times.

Residents of the Panhandle remember that Fandangle played a year ago as the first major production in the Pioneer Amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

The show broke a drought and was rained out with cloud bursts in the Canyon during the dress rehearsal and the first three days of the run. Finally the weather let up enough to allow one performance on Sunday, and the patrons returned to see the fabulous spectacle.

Fandangle had not been performed in its entirety for several years before the appearance here. Encouraged by their reception, the people of Albany who form the cast have built a new amphitheatre on the edge of Albany as a permanent home for the show, and are opening next week for the first time in their new quarters.

Bob Nail, the author-director-producer, who stayed in Canyon several weeks last year getting ready for the Palo Duro production, invites all who can come to send for reservations. All those who worked with him last year know what a grand show he can challenge the Albany cast to produce.

Local Woman's Kin Is Slain

Myrick Injured In Fall

Rodney Myrick was injured in a fall early last Friday morning.

Myrick was riding his horse near Canyon Junior High School when the horse apparently slipped and fell pinning Myrick's left foot beneath it.

After returning home Myrick was taken to Neblett Hospital and Clinic in Canyon where he was treated for broken bones in the left foot.

Crossland Named Arctic Runner-Up

Kenny Crossland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Crossland, was named Saturday as a runner-up in competition for Junior Scientific Aide at Arctic Research Laboratory, Point Barrow, Alaska.

Crossland, who previously had been selected as one of 60 Explorer Scouts in the finals, was notified last Saturday that he ranked in the final top ten. Two Explorer Scouts in the United States were chosen as aides for the Arctic Research Laboratory in Alaska.

Sixteen outposts are maintained by the laboratory for study and research in cooperation with University of Alaska. Junior aide duties include assisting and observing scientists at the different stations.

The two aides were chosen with emphasis on tenure and rank in scouting, scientific interest and aptitude for physical sciences, camping and leadership experience, scholarship, school courses taken in science and math, hobbies in science and math, letters of reference, and merit badges earned.

Crossland, a 1965 graduate of Canyon High School, was born August 16, 1947, in Canyon. He entered Boy Scouting as a Cub, was a member of Troop 66, and has been active in Explorer Post 66 for three years. University Schedules Exhibits For Summer

Visitors in Canyon along with local art fanciers will be afforded an opportunity during the summer to view paintings in Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum collection, along with an exhibit of photography.

According to Boone McClure, curator of the museum, no special exhibits are planned during the summer months.

"This is so we can show tourists what the museum owns in the way of collections", McClure explained. "We have no present plans to have special shows unless the work is extremely unusual, because we want everyone to see our own fine collection."

Exhibited paintings at the museum will be changed regularly.

West Texas State Department of Art has scheduled only one exhibit during the summer.

The exhibit will feature photographs of Panhandle wildlife, made by Jim Thomas, and will go up the second week in July. Dr. Emilio Caballero, head of the department, stated.

Thomas is outdoor editor of the Amarillo Globe Times, and has made some excellent shots of local wildlife, Caballero said.

The exhibit will be in Fine Arts Lounge for several weeks.

Mrs. McGee was in Lubbock at the time of the mishap. She was entering a restaurant when someone accidentally stepped on the left heel of her shoe.

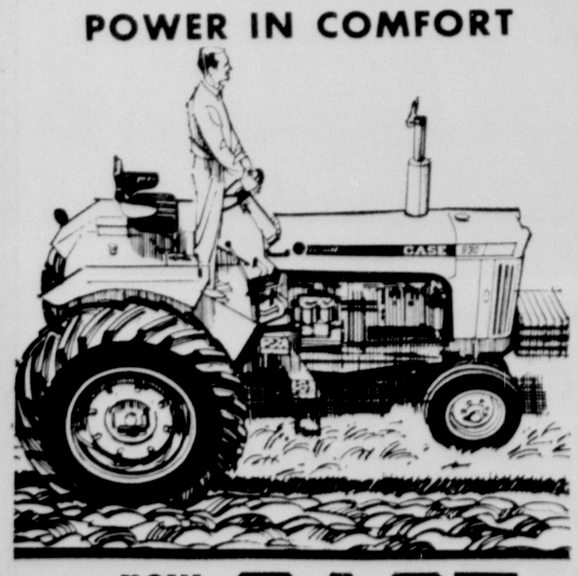

"I thought it was just a sprain at the time," she says. After returning to Canyon she was treated by a bone specialist in Amarillo for a broken left ankle.
